Military Parade Launches Victory Program Tonight

RADIO STARS AND ENTERTAINERS TO AID IN PROGRAM

Don McNeill, NBC, and Geo. McGaughey, Masters of Ceremony

HOLD VICTORY DANCE

A mammoth and colorful military parade tonight at 7:00 o'clock will usher in Antioch Victory Day celebration in the presence of thousands of Americans from all parts of Lake county and Northern Illinois. The parade itself will be but a prelude to the hours of festivities to follow on Main street which will be converted into a large stage for the program of unusual entertainment. The town has been gaily decorated with welcome emblems in the national colors, the contribution of the Antioch Lions club.

Featured in the mile long parade will be two platoons of state militia, Great Lakes Fife, Drum and Bugle corps, Burlington 50-piece band, Waukegan Drum and Bugle corps, Richmond 30-piece concert band, Bristol band and the Antioch High School band, Antioch Rescue squad, Girl Scouts, Antioch Legion Firing squad, Salvation Army, Johns-McNelly Trailer unit, Antioch Drum and Bugle corps, Antioch Legion Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, massed colors and many other marching units. Traffic will be detoured during the parade and Main street from Lake to Orchard will be closed for the entertainment program and the Victory Dance.

Don McNeill, M. C.

Featured on the platform as master of ceremonies is Don McNeill, conductor of the nationally famous NBC Breakfast club of the Air. Other radio personalities who will appear are Jack Baker, NBC soloist, the Metzler dancers, Florence Farrar, contralto, Truman Hudson, cornetist, and Lester Biere.

George S. McGaughey, prominent Waukegan attorney and corporation counsel for Antioch, will take over part of the duties of master of ceremonies, relieving Don McNeill during the evening.

Band to Play Concert

The Richmond concert band of 30 pieces under the direction of Prof. R. H. Aldrich, will entertain at the band stand from 6:30 o'clock until parade time.

Chairman Otto S. Klass today reported that all committees have been putting forth every effort to make the event a success, and that many organizations also had given every assistance to committee workers, including the Fire department, Lions club, and American Legion which is staging its annual carnival starting on Friday and has offered the Victory Day committee the use of its facilities on the water tower lot, where visitors may be entertained at the conclusion of the Victory program.

The event is expected to promote enough war stamp and defense bond sales to put the community well over the top of its quota for July. The local celebration is one of three such events to be held in Lake county in the near future—the others to be held in Waukegan and at Barrington.

Headquarters for war bond and stamp sales will be in the lobbies of the State Bank of Antioch and the First National Bank and will be in charge of H. A. Smith, cashier of the First National. War stamps will be sold at many booths and by individuals.

Assisting General Chairman Klass on the committee were H. A. Smith, bond and stamp sales; Legion Commander Roman Vos, parade; Prin. R. E. Clabaugh, publicity; George Wagner, program; Fire Chief Louis Van Patten, safety; and Robt. King, decorations; all of whom have co-operated with County Chairman James Stiles.

MISS LUCILLE SHERMAN IS BRIDE OF JOHN KUNTZ

Mrs. Lucy Himes announces the marriage of her daughter, Lucille, to John Kuntz, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuntz of Lake Catherine, Wednesday, July 15, at 7:30 o'clock, at St. Peter's church. The Rev. Fr. Flaherty officiated. The attendants were the bride's sister and brother, Jean and Bernard Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuntz, Jr., will make their home in Antioch.

Passes 84th Birthday

Sidney H. Reeves

Founder of Reeves Drug Store, who until his retirement last February, was Antioch's oldest business man, will be 84 years old on Saturday, July 18. Since selling his store to Mr. and Mrs. George Borovicka, Mr. Reeves has continued to live in his apartment in the building. Although his health does not permit of a celebration of his natal day, he is sure to have many visitors during the day, as well as the usual shower of post cards and greetings from his friends.

Mr. Reeves was a practicing pharmacist for over 60 years, the last 23 years being spent in Antioch, which he liked and which became his home when he first came here as relief pharmacist just after the world war.

The veteran druggist was signally honored on Easter Sunday, 1940, when community organizations presented him a fine etching in recognition of his contributions to community life and for his kindness to school children.

High School Will Annex 5½ Sections of Lake Villa Twp.

Petitioners Regard Move as Mutually Beneficial to Both Communities

The addition of approximately five and a half square miles of territory which represents a valuation of $355,000 is in prospect for the Antioch Township High school district, No. 117, with the completion of petitions now being circulated in the district.

The extra territory comes from Lake Villa Township and was formerly included in the county's non-high school district No. 122. Residents of the 5½ sections involved have already completed their petition which required 50 per cent of the voters. Lake Villa residents consider the union with the Antioch district desirable because students from that community will have advantage of the local modern school plant valued at $122,000, also the cash balance on hand; and from the Antioch viewpoint the union also is advantageous because the added valuation will produce about $4,000 of added revenue for the local school.

Floyd W. Horton who was appointed by the local high school board to secure the required signatures on the petition, reports that his work will be completed within the next few days. With the new addition the high school district will be comprised of 51 sections of taxable real estate.

Lake Villa township, Horton said, has 26 sections of land and they are located in four different school districts. Grayslake high school district (127) has six sections; Grant (124) one section; Monaville (130) three sections, and Abtloch (117) 16 sections.

Antioch High school, long regarded favorably by students of the Lake Villa area, was the logical choice of taxpayers when the matter of annexation was brought before them several months ago.

Mrs. Arthur Trieger called on her sister, Mrs. Richard Kennedy, who is a patient at MacNeil Memorial hospital, in Chicago, Sunday.

Visitors Will See Preview of Carnival Tonight

Water Tower Park Will Be Scene for Legion's Annual Event

Although announced to start on Friday evening, residents of Antioch and community will get a preview of the attractions at the annual American Legion carnival tonight following the Victory Day program when all visitors will be invited to the water tower park where complete equipment has been set up for the thrill-packed three-day event which will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday, closing Sunday night.

The ever popular bingo game will have a prominent location on the midway and will be operated by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, and refreshment stands also will be in charge of the Auxiliary.

Thrilling rides furnished by the Skinner Amusement company of Crystal Lake are among the attractions offered for the entertainment of visitors, and there are all kinds of games provided to test skill and compete for prizes. And if you just can't wait to see what the future holds for you, you are invited to consult Madame Venus, famous seeress of Chicago.

Commander Roman Vos, general chairman, has been aided by Clarence Heath, John Horan, Walter Hills, and Floyd Horton, and indications are, the committee reports, that this year's event will equal or exceed last year's outstanding success.

LIONS CLUB WILL SEND DELEGATE TO INTERNATIONAL MEET

The Antioch Lions club will send a delegate to the Lions International convention to be held in Toronto, Canada, starting July 21, it was voted at a meeting held Monday night at the home of C. K. Anderson.

This will be the first time that the local club has had representation at the International. Last year S. E. Pollock was named delegate to attend the convention at New Orleans, but illness prevented his attendance.

Thirty-eight Lions and their friends enjoyed the delicious dinner provided by the host. Guests were William M. Marks, of Lake Villa, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee; Highway Commissioner of Antioch Township Carl Barthel; Highway Patrolman Jack Flanagan; C. J. Roesslein, and Russell Anderson, nephew of Mr. Anderson, of Waukegan.

President George Wagner, presiding at his first meeting since election last month, appointed an attorney to investigate the shooting of air rifles in the village limits which has resulted in the slaughter of song birds and caused destruction of property, according to Lion Dan Boyer of Harden street.

The club voted to participate in a safety program for the lakes region. The necessity for such an educational effort was brought before the club by Capt. Herman Holbek of the Antioch Rescue squad. Holbek said that most all of the drownings in this locality had resulted from disregard of the most elementary rules of safety.

Fox Lake Scene of 10th District Legion Convention

Will Hear Resolutions and Elect Officers at All Day Meet

Legionnaires and their families will gather at Fox Lake Sunday to attend the 10th district convention, an all-day session of business and fun that will get under way at 9:30 o'clock and continue throughout the day.

After the registrations, the hearing of committees' reports, and the adoption of convention rules in the forenoon session, the afternoon will be devoted to the hearing of resolutions to be presented at the state convention in Peoria in August, and the election of district officers.

The district commander is Charles S. Prizer. George A. Bowen is secretary.

The Antioch News
Antioch, Illinois
Dear Friends:

Just a much belated line to let you know that I've been truly grateful for your kindness.

The Antioch News has, to a great extent, eliminated for me that extensive disease known as "Homesickness," for week by week it has brought to me a vivid picture of events as they have happened at home.

In the event that I should sail soon the following address will reach me now, or eventually:

Pvt. J. H. Sorensen

Two More Lake Tragedies Bring 1942 Total to 12

Rescue Squad Seeks Body of Youth in Lake Catherine

The Antioch Rescue squad and volunteers were still dragging the waters of Lake Catherine today for the body of Nicholas W. Cochnovity, 19, of 953 N. Parkside avenue, Chicago. Cochnovity was the second of two drownings in Antioch lakes Sunday afternoon.

The first victim was Fred Shutah, 23, of 1954 S. Spaulding ave., Chicago, who lost his life in Lake Marie at 2:00 p. m. The body was recovered by the Rescue squad 45 minutes later, and shortly before 4 o'clock the squad responded to the call from Lake Catherine.

Shutah was fishing with Miss Lillian Knyazywsky, 19, also of Chicago, when their boat capsized in a sudden squall. She was rescued by other fishermen nearby who had witnessed the accident, but Shutah sank in the water.

Boat Overturned

Cochnovity, whose body is still being sought, and who was said to have been an excellent swimmer, was accompanied by Miss Dorothy Nymark, 15, of 1208 N. Parkside ave., Chicago. The two were swimming from a boat near the north shore of Lake Catherine, when Cochnovity apparently became exhausted and sank in 35 feet of water. Miss Nymark made an unsuccessful effort to rescue her companion. Rescue parties found the boat overturned and brought the girl to the shore where she collapsed.

The two drownings here Sunday bring to 12 the number of lives lost in Lake county waters this year.

TWO BEING HELD FOR INFANT'S DEATH

A man and a woman are being held in the Lake county jail in connection with the finding of a dead infant in the Des Plaines river near Belvidere street last Sunday. They are Mrs. Betty Jane Sheehan, 24, formerly of Antioch, and Joseph Philip Clayton, 38, of 806 Fourteenth st., North Chicago.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter Atkinson signed murder warrants against Mrs. Sheehan and Clayton, following the recommendation of the coroner's jury that investigated the finding of the body of the infant. Whether or not these will be served will be determined after State's Attorney Harry Hall has completed his investigation. Early investigations made by the sheriff's office revealed that Mrs. Sheehan, a young divorcee, and Clayton, married and the father of two children, had been holding clandestine meetings in a rooming house in Waukegan, since last November.

Clayton, who was arrested Tuesday, told officers that on Sunday, July 5, he came to the rooming house to find the baby born to Mrs. Sheehan the night before wrapped in a newspaper. He says he put the bundle into a suitcase and went riding. At the Des Plaines river he opened the suitcase and dumped the bundle into the river, he told officers.

Mrs. Sheehan said the baby was born dead, and Clayton said he was certain of it.

Mrs. Sheehan had been employed in a North Chicago defense plant until July 4, but when she reported for work there after several days absence, she was discharged. She and Clayton, officers said, went to Kenosha last Saturday and Mrs. Sheehan rented a room at 6816 24th avenue, where officers found her when she was taken into custody Tuesday night. She waived extradition proceedings and was returned to Waukegan.

Mrs. Sheehan, the former Betty Jane Monnier of Antioch, was married in 1934 at the age of 16. She was divorced in July, 1941. A five-year-old son is in the custody of her parents.

PAST GRAND MATRONS VISIT ANTIOCH O. E. S.

Past Worthy Grand Matrons, Emma Hanson and Gussie L. Hart of Fox Lake and Chicago, were guests at the regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star, Thursday evening. Other guests were Thomas Hart and Mrs. R. W. Preble of Chicago. Following the meeting seven tables of cards were in play and a luncheon was served in the dining room, by the committee.

Military Parade Launches Victory Program Tonight

RADIO STARS AND ENTERTAINERS TO AID IN PROGRAM

Don McNeill, NBC, and Geo. McGaughey, Masters of Ceremony

HOLD VICTORY DANCE

A mammoth and colorful military parade tonight at 7:00 o'clock will usher in Antioch Victory Day celebration in the presence of thousands of Americans from all parts of Lake county and Northern Illinois. The parade itself will be but a prelude to the hours of festivities to follow on Main street which will be converted into a large stage for the program of unusual entertainment. The town has been gaily decorated with welcome emblems in the national colors, the contribution of the Antioch Lions club.

Featured in the mile long parade will be two platoons of state militia, Great Lakes Five, Drum and Bugle corps, Burlington 30-piece band, Waukegan Drum and Bugle corps, Richmond 30-piece concert band, Bristol band and the Antioch High School band, Antioch Legion Firing squad, Salvation Army, Johns-Marville Trailer unit, Antioch Drum and Bugle corps, Antioch Legion Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, massed colors and many other marching units. Traffic will be detoured during the parade and Main street from Lake to Orchard will be closed for the entertainment program and the Victory Dance.

Don McNeill, M. C.

Featured on the platform as master of ceremonies is Don McNeill, conductor of the nationally famous NBC breakfast club of the Air. Other radio personalities who will appear are Jack Baker, NBC soloist, the Metzler dancers, Florence Farrar, contralto, Truman Hudson, cornetist, and Lester Bieri.

George S. McGaughey, prominent Waukegan attorney and corporation counsel for Antioch, will take over part of the duties of master of ceremonies, relieving Don McNeill during the evening.

Band to Play Concert

The Richmond concert band of 30 pieces under the direction of Prof. R. H. Aldrich, will entertain at the band stand from 6:30 o'clock until parade time.

Chairman Otto S. Klass today reported that all committees have been putting forth every effort to make the event a success, and that many organizations also had given every assistance to committee workers, including the Fire department, Lions club, and American Legion which is staging its annual carnival starting on Friday and has offered the Victory Day committee the use of its facilities on the water tower lot, where visitors may be entertained at the conclusion of the Victory program.

The event is expected to promote enough war stamp and defense bond sales to put the community well over the top of its quota for July. The local celebration is one of three such events to be held in Lake county in the near future—the others to be held in Waukegan and at Barrington.

Headquarters for war bond and stamp sales will be in the lobbies of the State Bank of Antioch and the First National Bank and will be in charge of H. A. Smith, cashier of the First National. War stamps will be sold at many booths and by individuals.

Assisting General Chairman Klass on the committee were H. A. Smith, bond and stamp sales; Legion Commander Roman Vos, parade; Prin, R. E. Clabaugh, publicity; George Wagner, program; Fire Chief Louis Van Patten, safety; and Robt. King, decorations; all of whom have co-operated with County Chairman James Stiles.

MISS LUCILLE SHERMAN IS BRIDE OF JOHN KUNTZ

Mrs. Lucy Himens announces the marriage of her daughter, Lucille, to John Kuntz, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuntz of Lake Catherine, Wednesday, July 15, at 7:30 o'clock, at St. Peter's church. The Rev. Fr. Flaherty officiated. The attendants were the bride's sister and brother, Jean and Bernard Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuntz, Jr., will make their home in Antioch.

Passes 84th Birthday

Sidney H. Reeves

Founder of Reeves Drug Store, who until his retirement last February, was Antioch's oldest business man, will be 84 years old on Saturday, July 18. Since selling his store to Mr. and Mrs. George Borovicka, Mr. Reeves has continued to live in his apartment in the building. Although his health does not permit of a celebration of his natal day, he is sure to have many visitors during the day, as well as the usual shower of post cards and greetings from his friends.

Mr. Reeves was a practicing pharmacist for over 60 years, the last 23 years being spent in Antioch, which he liked and which became his home when he first came here as relief pharmacist just after the world war.

The veteran druggist was signally honored on Easter Sunday, 1940, when community organizations presented him a fine etching in recognition of his contributions to community life and for his kindness to school children.

High School Will Annex 5½ Sections of Lake Villa Twp.

Petitioners Regard Move as Mutually Beneficial to Both Communities

The addition of approximately five and a half square miles of territory which represents a valuation of $355,000 is in prospect for the Antioch Township High school district, No. 117, with the completion of petitions now being circulated in the district.

The extra territory comes from Lake Villa Township and was formerly included in the county's non-high school district No. 122. Residents of the 5½ sections involved have already completed their petition which required 50 per cent of the voters. Lake Villa residents consider the union with the Antioch district desirable because students from that community will have advantage of the local modern school plant valued at $122,000, also the cash balance on hand; and from the Antioch viewpoint the union also is advantageous because the added valuation will produce about $4,000 of added revenue for the local school.

Floyd W. Horton who was appointed by the local high school board to secure the required signatures on the petition, reports that his work will be completed within the next few days. With the new addition the high school district will be comprised of 51 sections of taxable real estate.

Lake Villa township, Horton said, has 26 sections of land and they are located in four different school districts. Grayslake high school district (127) has six sections; Grant (124) one section; Monaville (130) three sections; and Abtloch (117) 16 sections.

Antioch High school, long regarded favorably by students of the Lake Villa area, was the logical choice of taxpayers when the matter of annexation was brought before them several months ago.

Mrs. Arthur Trieger called on her sister, Mrs. Richard Kennedy, who is a patient at MacNeil Memorial hospital, in Chicago, Sunday.

Visitors Will See Preview of Carnival Tonight

Water Tower Park Will Be Scene for Legion's Annual Event

Although announced to start on Friday evening, residents of Antioch and community will get a preview of the attractions at the annual American Legion carnival tonight following the Victory Day program when all visitors will be invited to the water tower park where complete equipment has been set up for the thrill-packed three-day event which will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday, closing Sunday night.

The ever popular bingo game will have a prominent location on the midway and will be operated by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, and refreshment stands also will be in charge of the Auxiliary.

Thrilling rides furnished by the Skinner Amusement company of Crystal Lake are among the attractions offered for the entertainment of visitors, and there are all kinds of games provided to test skill and compete for prizes. And if you just can't wait to see what the future holds for you, you are invited to consult Madame Yenus, famous seeress of Chicago.

Commander Roman Vos, general chairman, has been aided by Clarence Heath, John Horan, Walter Hills, and Floyd Horton, and indications are, the committee reports, that this year's event will equal or exceed last year's outstanding success.

LIONS CLUB WILL SEND DELEGATE TO INTERNATIONAL MEET

The Antioch Lions club will send a delegate to the Lions International convention to be held in Toronto, Canada, starting July 21, it was voted at a meeting held Monday night at the home of C. K. Anderson.

This will be the first time that the local club has had representation at the International. Last year S. E. Pollock was named delegate to attend the convention at New Orleans, but illness prevented his attendance.

Thirty-eight Lions and their friends enjoyed the delicious steak dinner provided by the host. Guests were William M. Marks, of Lake Villa, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee; Highway Commissioner of Antioch Township Carl Barthel; Highway Patrolman Jack Flanagan; C. J. Roeschlein, and Russell Anderson, nephew of Mr. Anderson, of Waukegan.

President George Wagner, presiding at his first meeting since election last month, appointed an attorney to investigate the shooting of air rifles in the village limits which has resulted in the slaughter of song birds and caused destruction of property, according to Lion Dan Boyer of Harden street.

The club voted to participate in a safety program for the lakes region. The necessity for such an educational effort was brought before the club by Capt. Herman Holbek of the Antioch Rescue squad. Holbek said that most all of the drownings in this locality had resulted from disregard of the most elementary rules of safety.

Fox Lake Scene of 10th District Legion Convention

Will Hear Resolutions and Elect Officers at All Day Meet

Legionnaires and their families will gather at Fox Lake Sunday to attend the 10th district convention, an all-day session of business and fun that will get under way at 9:30 o'clock and continue throughout the day.

After the registrations, the hearing of committees' reports, and the adoption of convention rules in the forenoon session, the afternoon will be devoted to the hearing of resolutions to be presented at the state convention in Peoria in August, and the election of district officers.

The district commander is Charles S. Prizer. George A. Bowen is secretary.

Two More Lake Tragedies Bring 1942 Total to 12

Rescue Squad Seeks Body of Youth in Lake Catherine

The Antioch Rescue squad and volunteers were still dragging the waters of Lake Catherine today for the body of Nicholas W. Cochnovity, 19, of 953 N. Parkside avenue, Chicago. Cochnovity was the second of two drownings in Antioch lakes Sunday afternoon.

The first victim was Fred Shutah, 23, of 1954 S. Spaulding ave., Chicago, who lost his life in Lake Marie at 2:00 p. m. The body was recovered by the Rescue squad 45 minutes later, and shortly before 4 o'clock the squad responded to the call from Lake Catherine.

Shutah was fishing with Miss Lillian Knayczywski, 19, also of Chicago, when their boat capsized in a sudden squall. She was rescued by other fishermen nearby who had witnessed the accident, but Shutah sank in the water.

Boat Overtaken

Cochnovity, whose body is still being sought, and who was said to have been an excellent swimmer, was accompanied by Miss Dorothy Nymark, 15, of 1208 N. Parkside ave., Chicago. The two were swimming from a boat near the north shore of Lake Catherine, when Cochnovity apparently became exhausted and sank in 35 feet of water. Miss Nymark made an unsuccessful effort to rescue her companion. Rescue parties found the boat overturned and brought the girl to the shore where she collapsed.

The two drownings here Sunday bring to 12 the number of lives lost in Lake county waters this year.

TWO BEING HELD FOR INFANT'S DEATH

A man and a woman are being held in the Lake county jail in connection with the finding of a dead infant in the Des Plaines river near Belvidere street last Sunday. They are Mrs. Betty Jane Sheehan, 24, formerly of Antioch, and Joseph Philip Clayton, 38, of 806 Fourteenth st., North Chicago.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter Atkinson signed murder warrants against Mrs. Sheehan and Clayton, following the recommendation of the coroner's jury that investigated the finding of the body of the infant. Whether or not these will be served will be determined after State's Attorney Harry Hall has completed his investigation. Early investigations made by the sheriff's office revealed that Mrs. Sheehan, a young divorcee, and Clayton, married and the father of two children, had been holding clandestine meetings in a rooming house in Waukegan, since last November.

Clayton, who was arrested Tuesday, told officers that on Sunday, July 5, he came to the rooming house to find the baby born to Mrs. Sheehan the night before wrapped in a newspaper. He says he put the bundle into a suitcase and went riding. At the Des Plaines river he opened the suitcase and dumped the bundle into the river, he told officers.

Mrs. Sheehan said the baby was born dead, and Clayton said he was certain of it.

Mrs. Sheehan had been employed in a North Chicago defense plant until July 4, but when she reported for work there after several days absence, she was discharged. She and Clayton, officers said, went to Kenosha last Saturday and Mrs. Sheehan rented a room at 6816 24th avenue, where officers found her when she was taken into custody Tuesday night. She waived extradition proceedings and was returned to Waukegan.

Mrs. Sheehan, the former Betty Jane Monnier of Antioch, was married in 1934 at the age of 16. She was divorced in July, 1941. A five-year-old son is in the custody of her parents.

PAST GRAND MATRONS VISIT ANTIOCH O. E. S.

Past Worthy Grand Matrons, Emma Hanson and Gussie L. Hart of Fox Lake and Chicago, were guests at the regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star, Thursday evening. Other guests were Thomas Hart and Mrs. R. W. Preble of Chicago. Following the meeting seven tables of cards were in play and a luncheon was served in the dining room, by the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Preble of Chicago are spending this month at the Hasty cottage at Bluff lake.

Play Safe, and Live

Thus far this season Lake county waters have claimed the lives of twelve persons. During the last 15 years there have been approximately 300 drownings, most of which have occurred in the lakes area. A large percentage of these, perhaps all of them, could have been avoided through the exercise of ordinary precautions for swimmers and boaters.

With the exception of one person, who was lost through the ice in Fox river a few years ago, all of the drownings in this locality have been visitors and vacationists, which indicates that the ordinary vacationist is unused to swimming and boating and is completely unaware of the peril that is ever present in all water if safety rules are ignored. Thus, what is regarded by vacationists as one of the summer's greatest pleasures may quickly result in tragedy. Local youth, reared near many lakes and accustomed to almost daily swims, learn about water, and thus quite naturally avoid the fatal errors so many novice swimmers commit with consequent loss of life.

Alarmed by the high total of fatalities already reached in the lake region this year, several local groups are advocating the necessity of launching a safety educational program and the posting of beaches with safety placards, such as were used a few years ago by Red Cross agencies throughout the county when drownings had reached an alarming total.

Disregard of three very elementary rules for safety in the water has been responsible for the three latest drownings in this community. The rules referred to are: Do not over-load a boat; Do not go out or stay out in small boats when waves are high; Do not swim from boat unless boat is anchored.

The Antioch Lions club and the local American Legion post are collaborating in the promotion of safety measures for the resort region, which is commendable and necessary. It has the approval of the Antioch rescue squad and of all citizens.

America's Hidden Power

Describing the hidden power in our democracy as the "power to accomplish miracles," Walter D. Fuller, chairman of the Board of the National Association of Manufacturers, made the following statements in his recent address to the National Education Association:

"There is hidden power in freedom of opportunity in America, the freedom to experiment, explore, invent and adventure that no coddling under super-statedhood can begin to match. There is hidden power in our freedom of press which knits the pattern of national unity and progress through truthful information and common understanding that no Gestapo can marshal and no Goebbels can destroy. There is hidden power in freedom of enterprise which constantly batters at the frontiers of new products, new methods and new opportunities.

"Yes, we have competed with Hitler's much-vaunted regimentation and in the first big battle—the battle of production—Americans are giving him a licking that is making history. Our amazing production record is not alone a victory for American industry and free enterprise. It is a combined victory made by the forces of opportunity, management and labor, the press and education. It is truly an American victory, the product of unified effort of all.

"In this war we have demonstrated what industry and labor can do when there is a customer big enough to challenge the ability of our productive system. We have turned this wheels of industry faster and faster. We have attained the highest level of employment of payrolls, of national income and of business activity in the history of this or any other country. As long as Uncle Sam is there ready to gobble up the goods as fast as they come off the production line, and still yell for more and more, these increases will continue."

Penalizing Marriage

It is being hotly debated in Congress whether husbands and wives be forced to make a joint income tax return, instead of separate returns. According to Treasury estimates, that would increase tax revenue by a few hundred millions annually.

What treasury experts seem to forget is that a tax law must be judged in the light of justice and equity, not only in the light of just how much money it might raise.

Millions of women have jobs which have no connection whatsoever with their husbands' jobs and earnings. Other millions are the possessors of income-producing property which has no connection with their marriage and is clearly and completely their own. To say to these women that they cannot make an individual tax return, is to say in effect, that the right of women to own separate property is abrogated.

Gift taxes now in effect prevent wholesale transfer of income producing securities or properties between husband and wife.

Competent lawyers are convinced that the mandatory joint-tax-return law would be unconstitutional. Whether it is or not, it is clearly unjust. It amounts to a penalty on the institution of marriage. The revenue it would produce can be and should be raised in another more equitable way.

HOUSEWIVES, BRIDES, CHILDREN FIND ODD WAYS TO PURCHASE WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

American women have invented many ingenious ways of saving in order to buy that extra war stamp, which in turn means that extra bond. In the drive to salvage every bit of scrap rubber and metal, many Illinois women are using the money they receive for this scrap to buy stamps. Spring cleaning together with the ever-present problem of "what shall I do with that old iron bed?" (or whatever represents the "iron bed" problem)—has but one answer to most women—"call up the junk man and sell it... use the money for stamps."

A group of suburban women in Cook county are using the money they get for the grease and tallow they sell the butcher to buy stamps for Christmas presents. They plan to give each of their children an album filled with War Savings Stamps this Christmas.

Young brides and girl graduates in Chicago are wearing their war savings stamps... in fact, no modern corsage fails to include cellophane war stamps—some are made wholly of stamps—some combine the skill of the florist's orchids and stamps—but the well-dressed girl and woman—who wears a corsage—insists upon one that includes stamps! And when the corsage becomes faded the stamps may be removed and pasted in the regular war savings stamp book.

Here's Chance to Join Uncle Sam's Club—Free!

Uncle Sam invites you to become a member of the biggest and most important club in the world—the 10 per cent club. It's an All-American club. There is no initiation fee; no dues. All you have to do to join is to invest a minimum of 10 per cent of your income in war bonds and stamps and keep on buying regularly for the duration.

In return you have the satisfaction of knowing your investment is helping buy the sinews of war needed by our fighting forces; you know you are one of millions of fellow-Americans contributing to victory and finally you get your money back with a good rate of interest.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazis' Drive Into Don River Sector Endangers Rich Caucasus Oil Fields; Jones Warns U. S. of Inflation Peril; FDR Says Tire Seizure Is Possible

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel (left), receives report from General Navarini, commander of Italian forces supporting the Nazi armies in Egypt. The picture, made after the German victories in Libya, was received from a neutral source.

RUBBER:

Tire Confiscation?

The administration's nation-wide rubber hunt had produced disappointing results. Only a portion of the hoped-for scrap rubber stock pile had been turned in and meanwhile 30,000,000 American motorists continued to roll along on steadily thinning tires.

Hence it was not a surprise when President Roosevelt declared at a press conference that if war conditions grew worse, the government might be forced to confiscate every automobile tire in the country.

The President tempered his warning with the cautious hope that nation-wide gasoline rationing could be avoided. But, he emphasized, he was trying to save the nation, not gasoline and rubber.

Mr. Roosevelt's review of the situation came after the army, the navy and Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes' office had appealed to East coast motorists to discontinue immediately all unnecessary use of gasoline, regardless of what their ration cards entitled them to. A joint statement said joyriding in the gas rationed area was preventing war workers from getting enough motor fuel to get to work and back and was threatening to hamper seriously the war production program.

Fortunate were congressmen, members of state legislatures, other government officials and candidates for public office. For under regulations promulgated by the OPA for permanent East coast rationing, such persons were given "preferred" mileage ratings providing them with gasoline for transportation needs "in pursuit of legislative business."

SABOTEURS:

History Recalled

Once before a military commission had sat in Washington deliberating over evidence that was to send a band of conspirators to their death. That was 77 years ago when eight defendants were tried in the dingy old penitentiary building for the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Now again, a military commission sat in Washington. This time it was to pass sentence on eight Nazi saboteurs who had landed on the East coast to launch a campaign of destruction against American arms plants. The trial this time was held in the new department of justice building.

In proceedings marked with the same secrecy that characterized the former trial, the prisoners learned whether they were to meet a firing squad or go to the gallows—for death was the penalty they faced.

Observers who noted the coincidence between the two famous trials—eight defendants in each case—remembered that only five of the Lincoln conspirators, including a woman, Mary Surratt, were put to death.

MISCELLANY:

SYDNEY: A highway capable of maintaining heavy military traffic has been completed across the trackless northern territory of Australia, in a little more than a year, a government report revealed. The highway is so designed that army vehicles will not be halted during the rainy season. Civilian road workers, including several United States engineers, worked on the project.

RUSSIA:

Nazi Menace

Breaking through the Russian front east of Kursk and Kharkov, a Nazi armored assault had driven 100 miles into the upper basin of the Don river and given Adolf Hitler his first significant success in his summer offensive against the Reds.

With both sides throwing in all available manpower and equipment, the greatest armored battle in history raged.

To hard-pressed Marshal Timoshenko it must have seemed that he faced more disastrous threats than he could meet. Although counterattacking gallantly and fighting grimly, the Red forces had been forced steadily back. Violent combat had centered around Voronezh, key link between Russia's central and southern armies.

And the goal, as before, was the rich oil fields of the Caucasus to the southeast. Possession of this prize would mean unlimited fuel for Hitler's mechanized legions.

Two immediate targets of the Nazi offensive were the Don river, one of Russia's chief transportation arteries, and the Moscow-Rostov railway which parallels the Don and feeds much of the Soviet's industrial and military machine.

Meanwhile in Egypt, Marshal Rommel's headlong drive had been stopped by the British under General Auchinleck. Refusing to be bottled up in stationery fortresses, the "Auk" had chosen his own battleground when he turned on the Nazi army. The site was a narrow funnel-shaped front between El Alamein on the seacoast and the Quatara marshes 40 miles inland. Here, aided by reinforcements, fresh equipment and slashing blows by the RAF and their American flying Allies, he had brought to a halt the Nazi steamroller headed for Alexandria and the Suez canal.

INFLATION:

Perils Revealed

Like a stern pedagogue pounding the three R's into the skulls of his scholars, gray-haired Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, read the American people a lecture on the ABC's of economics.

His theme: The dangers of inflation. Mr. Jones said that the American people will have "over $30,000,000 more income in 1943 than the value of the things for which the money will be spent" and termed this "a potential 'inflationary gap' greater than any the world has ever known."

The secretary's remarks followed hard on press conference warning by President Roosevelt that it would be necessary for Americans to adopt a national economic policy which would control inflation.

Among maxims Mr. Jones laid down were:

"No business man or industrialist can expect higher prices for his products without paying higher prices for having them made."

AIR TRANSPORT:

Saga of Service

The answer to what had become of civilian luxury airliners taken over by the army after Pearl Harbor came when it was announced that these planes were among craft that had flown 5,000,000 miles during the past five months rushing war equipment and personnel to strategic points in the Pacific.

The saga of this bold aerial venture included chapters highlighting the heroism of hundreds of pilots.

TIRPITZ:

Reds Foil Plans

On the loose again from her Norwegian fjord refuge, the powerful Nazi battleship Tirpitz had harried Allied convoys on the U. S.-British supply route to northern Russia, until two well-aimed torpedoes from a Soviet submarine damaged the raider and drove her to cover.

A Red communique revealed that the action saved a big Allied convoy and let the merchantmen through to Russia intact. The communique reported that a German naval squadron in which three heavy cruisers and eight destroyers accompanied the Tirpitz had aimed to intercept the convoy carrying arms to Russia. The crippling attack on the Tirpitz, however, was said to have disrupted their operation and permitted all ships to reach the safety of a north Russian port.

MANPOWER:

19,000,000 Needed

One out of every six Americans faced the prospect of being inducted into war activities—military and industrial—during 1942 and 1943. At least that was the forecast of Brig. Gen. Frank J. McSherry of the War Manpower commission, who declared that 19,000,000 persons would be required.

Of this "staggering" total, he said, 10,500,000 men and women must be put to work in war industries this year and 2,500,000 more in 1943. Of the remaining 6,000,000, McSherry estimated, 3,400,000 will be inducted into the armed forces during 1942 and 3,500,000 next year.

WAR PRODUCTION:

Nelson 'Realigns'

With the headache of an organization shakeup happily out of the way, War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson turned with obvious relief to a contemplation of the WPB's future activities.

The chairman said that the WPB had now reached the end of the tooling up period and was going ahead with the task of conversion, especially of the nation's smaller plants. He said there was little "fat" in the civilian economy, but stressed the fact that vital civilian needs must be taken care of because the economy—although "thin"—must be kept healthy.

Forecast for some time, the WPB's "realignment" program brought William L. Batt in as vice chairman, or "chief of staff," leaving Nelson free to devote his time to essential policies. Batt had previously been chairman of the requirements committee. James S. Knowlson, present director of industry operation, became the other vice chairman.

CHINA WAR:

Sad Anniversary

As China's war with Japan entered its sixth year, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek bravely assured his 450,000,000 countrymen that "Japan's collapse was only a question of time." Chiang declared that the United States "is bound to deal with her first and most threatening enemy, Japan" and "is beginning to discharge her supremely important duty in the Pacific."

CHIANG KAI-SHEK
"Matter of Time."

Meanwhile Chiang's peasant army was heartened by the triumphant blows struck recently by United States air forces against the Jap invaders.

Summing up the price Nippon has already paid for its attempt to swallow China, an army spokesman reported that 1,000,000 Japs had been killed and 1,500,000 wounded in five years of war.

In spite of brave words, the stark fact remained that China's position was desperately grave. Japan was steadily severing her communications. With all but air-borne supplies from her allies cut off, China had to depend on her own slender material resources and her under-armed peasant army to carry on the fight against the Mikado's strong forces.

CANADA:

War Transformation

From a placid agricultural country, Canada has been transformed into a giant war factory from which men, planes, tanks, guns and food-stuffs are pouring across the Atlantic to Britain and the other fighting fronts.

This picture of the war's impact on our neighbor of the north was painted in an official report which told a vivid tale of the Dominion's industrial progress.

Prisoner Is Missing;

Turns Out It's Mascot

RALEIGH, N. C.—Prison clerk searched in vain for the fingerprints and record of Jiggs Thebear, listed as one of the 150 prisoners transferred from the Perquimans county camp to Caldonia prison farm. They discovered that the prisoner was really Jiggs, the bear, a pet of the Perquimans men.

Million in Gems

Found on Beach

Fell From Wrecked Plane Off Australian Coast.

MELBOURNE, — A $1,000,000 packet of diamonds, lost when a plane flying from Java was shot down by the Japanese off the Australian coast was found by an unidentified beachcomber after official searches failed, it was announced here.

The diamonds were turned over to authorities at a northwestern town. The beachcomber, who walked into the town to enlist in the Australian Imperial forces, said he found the parcel while searching the beach for sea food.

Destined for the Commonwealth Bank of Australia, the parcel had been handed to the pilot of one of the last planes to take off from Java after the Japanese had landed on the island early in March. As it neared the Australian coast, the plane was attacked and shot down by Japanese aircraft.

The pilot made a crash landing near the beach, but the plane was wrecked and partly submerged. Four members of the crew were killed.

Forced to wait for many days before wandering natives rescued them, the survivors searched among the plane's wreckage, but couldn't find the precious cargo. Later, an official party returned to the scene, but its search, too, was fruitless.

The beachcomber, whose reward has not yet been determined, said he found the parcel partially buried in a mud bank.

High School Boy Keeps

Bees in His Bedroom

CLEVELAND.—Tom Paisley, a 15-year-old high school sophomore of suburban Shaker Heights, keeps thousands of bees in his bedroom.

The bees, in fact, have their own private entrance to his bedroom.

Through a hole in the bedroom window frame the bees enter a small passageway that leads to their glass-enclosed hive.

Young Paisley became interested in bee supply several years ago, and took a correspondence course in bee culture, which is conducted by Ohio State university. He has eight hives on his family's farm in Mentor, Ohio, but maintains his bedroom apiary as well.

To Rattle a Rattler:

Just Rhumba on His Roof

PIERRE, S. D.—Want to give a rattlesnake the jitters? Jump up and down on the ground near him. It scares him half to death.

A. M. Jackley, South Dakota snake exterminator, reported that a hay crew found two rattlesnakes in a windrow, killed them, and on returning for the next load found more snakes.

The more snakes they killed, the more appeared. Jackley said the vibrations of the truck drove the snakes from mouse and gopher burrows. The men tallied up 77 snakes from the five acres.

Car Wrecked Twice and

Stolen All in One Day

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—R. M. Aiken, employee of the Jacksonville naval air station, thought it was bad enough when another machine clipped his front fender, but his troubles had only begun.

A policeman ordered both cars moved a short distance away while a conference was called to agree on damages. When Aiken returned for his car it was gone, but it turned up when officers went to another accident in which the stolen car had rolled into a light pole. The car was wrecked twice and stolen once in the same day.

Catching Tire Thieves

Easy for Old Cowhand

GRAND PRAIRIE, TEXAS.—Catching tire thieves is a cinch out here in the cow country—you don't even have to chase 'em. Aroused by a noise in his garage, C. F. Witherspoon grabbed his lasso, made a throw and caught the intruder the first try. All Witherspoon had to do was haul in the thief and call the town marshal.

Talkative Thief Meets

An Obliging Customer

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—Jess W. Spain didn't find many sympathetic police ears when he gave details of his $171 robbery.

"I woke up and found a man sitting on my bed," related Spain. "We talked a little while, then I turned over and went to sleep. In the morning I found my billfold gone."

DON'T CALL WASHINGTON—unless you must!

• With the war effort of 27 United Nations centered upon it, Washington is probably the busiest city in the world. It is fast outgrowing its physical limits—and its telephone facilities.

Since Pearl Harbor, Long Distance telephone traffic in and out of Washington has jumped 48½%. Calls of vital importance sometimes get caught in the crush.

New construction would normally take care of the increased load. But copper, rubber and aluminum are even more critically needed for the fighting fronts.

So we must ask you to cut down on every possible Washington call—so that Army, Navy and Government can have clear "talk-tracks" to get America's biggest job done. We know we can count on your co-operation.

These suggestions, offered especially for Washington, also apply to other busy cities across the country.

1. As far as possible, avoid all Long Distance calls not directly related to the war effort.

2. If you must make a Long Distance call, place it in the off-peak hours—

Man Won't Take Bath, So Wife Wins Divorce

HOUSTON.—What did he do that was so cruel? asked Judge Kenneth McCalla. "He just never would take a bath," was the woman's reply. "When I got after him he'd just go in the bathroom and splash some water around." Her 41-year-old husband didn't contest the divorce, Judge McCalla gave the decree.

Fake Hero Must Buy War Stamps

Sentence Fixed by Court for Attempted Arson.

SALEM, MASS.—Jailed since he set a fire in a Lynn building where he was a night watchman, William E. Holmes, 21, a special policeman and a former member of the national guard, gained his freedom when he promised Judge J. Arthur Baker he will purchase $5 worth of defense stamps every week until the United States is at peace again.

A suspended sentence of two years was imposed by Judge Baker when he pleaded guilty to attempted arson. Absent without leave from Camp Edwards at the time of his arrest, the youth was instructed by the court to "do something for your country" by buying defense stamps. Holmes failed to return to his outfit, the 102d field artillery, after a furlough last October, the judge was informed, and army authorities recently informed Probation Officer Fred M. Barr here that they do not want him back in the ranks. The young man obtained a job as a night watchman for a notification service in Lynn while AWOL, it was brought out.

The former soldier set fire to a box in a Lynn lumber company's building the night of December 12, according to police, and extinguished the blaze himself to impress his superiors with his ability as a watchman, hoping he would receive an increase in pay.

A large and appreciative audience thought together at eleven o'clock last

Sunday morning upon the words of God to Joshua, "Speak to the Children of Israel that they go forward." The Children of Israel were on their way to the Promised Land. They had reached the Red Sea. Pharaoh's army was in close pursuit. Mountains were on either side. The situation seemed hopeless. But the Promised Land was beyond the sea and God's command was, "Go forward." They obeyed and were victorious.

Today God's command to the church is, "Go forward." There is no place in the Christian religion for retreat or resting at base. There is just one divine command, "Go forward."

One task is greater than ever in the history of man, yet it is not impossible for God has promised victory. But we shall not get there as a church until we "go forward" as individuals.

"We must 'go forward' from our low standards of life to those set by Jesus

Christ. The call today is for clean, noble, helpful, sacrificial living.

"We must 'go forward' from inertia and spiritual laziness to high spiritual enthusiasm and activity.

"We must 'go forward' from material and spiritual selfishness to Christian

Brotherhood. Ours is a social gospel and includes every phase of human existence.

"We must 'go forward' from a feeling of irresponsibility to a consciousness of social solidarity.

We need men and women of unflinching faith, unconquerable courage, unquestioned loyalty, and Christlike character.

When we meet these conditions we have God's promise, "Fear thou not

Chicago Parent-Teacher Group Enjoys Outing at Carlsen Home at L. Marie

The Antioch News is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Charles A. Handy, publicity chairman of the Carl Schurz High School Parent-Teacher association of Chicago in which she extends thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Haldor Carlsen for the "grand outing they had at the Carlsen home on July 8."

"The table was spread with 'pot luck' foods, served buffet style," writes Mrs. Handy, "and it was enjoyed on the large veranda and on tables arranged on the lawn facing the channel filled with water lilies and in view of the martins feeding their young; after which a short business meeting was held and many plans were discussed for the ensuing year which promises to be one of entertaining, informative and instructive programs for the P-T. A. members and friends."

"At the termination of the board meeting, boating, swimming, cards and social activities were enjoyed; some of the ladies even brought their Red Cross knitting along."

"At 6 o'clock the Doctor rang 'his' Liberty Bell summoning all to another cup of coffee after which we departed for our various homes, having had a grand day at Lake Marie and thanked Dr. and Mrs. Carlsen for the opportunity of enjoying their lovely comfortable summer home with them."

No Rhyme or Reason for It, but It Really Works

FINDLAY, OHIO.—William D. Robinson of nearby Rudolph, Ohio, began to whittle with a purpose three years ago and now he's displaying his handiwork.

The gadget is a series of engine-like parts—60 of them—which cover about 20 square feet. The units, made entirely of wood and all hand-carved, are assembled in such a manner on one base that they run when the power is turned on from a small electric motor.

Robinson calls the gadget his "unfinished symphony" because it will never be completed. He intends to add wheels and more connecting rods until the energy, furnished by the small motor, gives out or his gadget outgrows his barn.

He estimates that there are 500 working parts in the gadget, including hand-carved cylinders, crankshafts, wrist-pins and pulleys.

Look Out Schickgruber; Catawbas on Warpath!

ROCK HILL, S. C.—The Catawba Indians, once a powerful nation, have declared war on the Axis.

Chief Robert Lee Harris said the tribe delayed its declaration long enough to "work up a good mail" before telling anybody about it. Meanwhile, he said, just about every man of the tribe of fighting age has already enlisted in Uncle Sam's army.

The Catawbas, now living on a small reservation near here, fought with the palefaces in early wars with hostile Indians, in the Mexican war, the Civil war and World War No. 1.

The reservation has a population of a little over 200.

Thought for the Week

"When we review history from the beginning of human existence to the present age in which we live, it is evident that all war and conflict, bloodshed and battle, every form of sadism has been due to some form of prejudice, whether religious, racial or national, to partisan bias and selfish prejudice of some sort. Prejudice is a destroyer of the foundations of the world of humanity, whereas religion was meant to be the cause of fellowship and agreement."

"Religion must be the cause of love. Religion must be the cause of justice, for the wisdom of the Manifestations of God is directed toward the establishing of the bond of a love which is indissoluble. The bonds which hold together the body-politic are not sufficient. The real bond of integrity is religion in character, for religion indicates the oneness of the world of humanity. Religion serves the world of morality. Religion purifies the hearts. Religion impels men to achieve praiseworthy deeds. Religion becomes the cause of love in human hearts, for religion is a divine foundation, the foundation ever conducive to life. The teachings of God are the source of illumination to the people of the world. Religion is ever constructive, not destructive."

Youth Gets a Line On His Girl Friend

SEATTLE.—A 16-year-old boy was worried about his true love.

So, Police Capt. George Kimball explained, he tapped her home telephone with a portable set and asked a friend to call and ask her for a date.

Was she true? He never found out. The police found his connection first.

Pardon Lifer Who Fled 18 Years Ago

Went Back on Wife's Advice To Ease Conscience.

PARCHMAN, MISS.—A governor's pardon opened for Milton Savell, 42 years old, the penitentiary gates through which his conscience sent him a few weeks ago to serve out a life sentence.

Savell voluntarily ended 18 years of a free, happy and respected life as Jack Canon, tire factory worker in Detroit, when he surrendered to Gov. Paul Johnson. At the governor's suggestion he went alone to re-enter the state prison farm here.

Savell was admitted to the penitentiary 20 years ago sentenced to life imprisonment in the death of a youth from a neighboring county. He said he discharged his gun accidentally in a brawl, when he was struck over the head, and that an unfriendly jury convicted him.

Savell's conscience kept him from seizing one opportunity to win freedom soon after he was imprisoned.

A model inmate, he became a trusty guard and saw one of his fellow-prisoners try to escape. If he had shot him prison custom would have demanded that he be released.

"But I thought 'my God, I can't get out of here that way,'" he exclaimed, "so I called sharply to him instead and he crept back."

In 1924 Savell and another prisoner slipped away. Savell established himself in Detroit, married and reared three daughters. But he said he felt that he could never be at ease with a prison escape on his mind.

"The only difference between the way I'm living and being in prison is that I'm not behind stone walls," he explained.

So he told his wife his story. She agreed that he should give himself up, and went with him to the state capitol at Jackson.

The governor gave Savell a full pardon.

Keeper of Lighthouse Is Given Service Medal

MISCOU ISLAND, N. B.—Twenty-eight years of service as a lighthouse keeper on barren Miscou island, the northeastern tip of New Brunswick extending into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, have won the Imperial Service medal for John Alexander Ward.

The king granted Ward the medal in recognition of his "meritorious services" in keeping the light burning for nearly three decades to warn shipping of the presence of dangerous reefs. Ward, 70 years old, has lived on this island most of his life.

Blindly a Pedestrian Follows Seeing Eye Man

DENVER.—Farrington R. Carpenter, Colorado collector of revenue, poked absent-mindedly at a pebble with his walking stick, waiting for the traffic light to change. Finally an elderly man took his arm and said gently:

"It's all right now. The light's changed."

He led Carpenter across the street.

"I didn't have the heart to tell him I wasn't blind," Carpenter said, "so I just tapped off down the walk."

'Old Man of the River' Swims Only 73 Hours

BUENOS AIRES.—Pedro Candioti, 55 years old, known as Argentina's "old man of the river," failed in an attempt to break his own record of 81 hours of continuous swimming when he gave up after 73 hours 45 minutes.

He started from Rosari, Argentina's second largest city, on February 26 and was attempting to swim all the way to Buenos Aires, but was forced by exhaustion to emerge at suburban San Isidro.

Army-Minded Boys Are Now Taking to Cooking

COVINA, CALIF.—At last, the high school faculty knows why the cooking classes became so popular with the male students.

"I'm probably going into the army and I like to cook, so I might as well learn to do a good job of it and cook there," explained Football Captain Bill Bechtel, the 40th boy to enroll.

Plumbers Find What They're Searching For

SAN FRANCISCO.—Tony Lucchesi, 41 years old, a plumber, and his 17-year-old assistant, Clifford Hauchin, were hunting a gas leak yesterday. Their flashlight fell on the floor and went out. One of them lit a match to find the flashlight.

Emergency hospital attendants said their burns were extensive but not serious.

Prison Houdini Asks Place With Paratroop Squad

Felon, Convicted 10 Times, Escaped 6 Times, Seeks Place in War.

LONDON.—The desire to be a war hero drove four Stanley Hilton Thurston, 31 years old, native of Manchester, England, son of a construction man, engineer, ten times convicted, three times a prison breaker, to his most recent jail jumping exploit, which ended—as did the others—with his arrest.

Before conviction the other day on four new charges, Thurston cast aside his habitual reticence and secretiveness in an effort to explain his anti-social career.

He has actually escaped from custody a total of six times—three times from prisons, once from a home, and twice from policemen. Many other times he has tried to get away without success.

This Houdini of the underworld accomplished his latest escape March 25 of last year when he escaped from the famous—sometimes called infamous—Dartmoor prison, in lonely Devonshire. He was serving a sentence of five years penal servitude and five years preventive detention, passed on him in August, 1939, at Lewes.

The effect of the new sentence of seven years penal servitude is that he will spend seven years in a convict prison and then serve five years under preventive detention regulations, a total of 12 years.

Caught Climbing Pipe.

Thurston pleaded guilty in his preliminary hearing before the common sergeant, Cecil Whiteley, K. C., to two charges of housebreaking, one of receiving, and a charge of possessing housebreaking implements by night.

Small Raft With 3 Fight Sharks and Storm; Beat Sea

Tell Greatest Tale of Men Against Sea That Has Come Out of War.

PEARL HARBOR.—Three sun-burned sailors of Uncle Sam's Pacific fleet sat in an officers' lounge here and casually told the greatest story of men against the sea that has come out of this war.

These three men, armed at the last only with a pocket knife and provisioned with ingenuity alone, sailed 1,000 miles in a rubber life raft, 8 by 4 feet over all.

They lived for 34 days on two birds and a couple of fish they were able to catch, and drank rain water wrung from rags.

They drove off leopard sharks with their bare fists and went through one of the worst hurricanes the South Pacific has ever seen without even a stitch of clothing for protection, having lost them when the raft upset while they were bailing with them during the storm.

Finally they made land on a tiny island, and struggled to march erect so that if the Japs were on the island, they would not have to crawl to the enemy but would be shot down honorably like better warriors.

On Scouting Mission.

Spokesman for the trio was Aviation Chief Machinist's Mate Harold F. Dixon, 41 years old, of La Mesa, Calif. He was their captain on the long, hungry voyage. With him were Anthony J. Pastula, 24, aviation ordnance second class, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Gene D. Aldrich, 22, radio man third class, of Sikeston, Mo.

The three were on a 500-mile scouting mission January 16 in a bomber plane from a ship in an American naval force in the southwest Pacific. They flew the lonely wastes of their ocean patrol for several hours, then headed for home. But home was not there. In clouds and rain squalls, they had lost their mother ship.

Dixon set the plane down upon the water, but it sank quickly, the trio being unable to salvage any stores and barely being able to float the raft itself.

Then began the 34 days of men against the sea. Dixon recalled that one night Aldrich put his hand in the water. A shark grazed his teeth across four fingers of Aldrich's left hand, badly tearing the nail of his index finger.

Stabs Small Fish.

With a length of half-inch Manila line, and a jacket, Dixon rigged a sea anchor which he said gave the crew excellent control of their craft. For water, the men used their underclothing as sponges to soak up rain. Aldrich, who had a pocket knife, one day stabbed a small fish, and the trio ate the liver, all the "innards" and some of the flesh.

One night an albatross landed on the stern of the raft and Aldrich shot it with a revolver they had managed to save.

One morning Aldrich stabbed a shark, the revolver having corroded into uselessness.

Dixon had read that shark livers store up vitamins, so they ate the liver with relish. "It was very tasty," Dixon said. In the shark's stomach were two sardines, which Dixon remarked must have been partly digested because they tasted as if they had been cooked. One day a tern-like bird lighted on the raft, was caught and devoured on the spot.

After finally reaching the island, the emaciated trio was cared for by natives until rescued by an American naval ship.

"How do you find the food in Honolulu?" Dixon was asked at conclusion of his tale.

"Pretty regularly," he replied.

Flying Doctor Can Land A 'Hospital' by 'Chute

SPOKANE.—A flying physician, ready to land or parachute to the scene of an airplane crash with folding operating table and surgical instruments, is a member of the Civil Air patrol in Spokane.

F. R. Schiller, C.A.P. transportation officer, said that two expert parachute men who learned their work fighting forest fires from the air in the Rockies are working with the doctor, who asked that his name be withheld.

Dairying Proves Best Product for Farmers

WASHINGTON.—Milk, cream and butter brought more money to American farmers than any other products in 1941. According to the department of agriculture, dairy products made up 17 per cent of the cash farm income from the sale of all crops and livestock combined.

Ash Hauler Lucky; Truck Takes Fire Near Station

COLORADO SPRINGS.—The fire department here claims it has made the shortest run on record. An ash hauler's truck, belching smoke and ash from stem to stern, rolled up to the back door of the fire station. A driver rushed inside to summon the firemen to the rescue. They drove the big pumper half around the building, attached a hose at a nearby plug and soon had the flames extinguished.

Scientist Joins Army; Wife Takes His Job

NORTH SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Mrs. Helsey Schedvin has stepped into the shoes of her husband, Robert Schedvin, head of the science department and chemistry teacher here.

When Schedvin entered the army meteorology training school in southern California, Mrs. Schedvin took over his classes.

Turns Sleuth to Catch Bunco Gang

Old Sea-Dog Makes Good on Promise to Himself.

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—An old sea-dog, who refused to take his losses quietly and let the law take its course, can sit back in the sunshine again, smoke his pipe and smile with the satisfaction of keeping a promise to himself.

Louis Van Rillaer, a retired sea captain from San Francisco, was swindled out of $7,700 in a horse race bunco game on November 26, 1939, while he was vacationing in Phoenix. He vowed he would never rest until he had put the swindlers behind bars.

He became an amateur Sherlock Holmes and began a long and sometimes discouraging search, but he always remembered his vow that he would locate and prosecute the confidence men if it took him to the ends of the earth and the remaining days of his life.

His perseverance won out. As the result of his determination, all three members of the bunco gang who fleeced him out of his hard-earned cash are now serving sentences in the Arizona state prison.

The amazing story of sleuthing and tracking down members of the gang covers a 2½ year period of traveling throughout the United States.

Van Rillaer located one of the trio, Max Kaplan, in Florida after a year of searching and caused his arrest. Kaplan was returned to Phoenix for trial. A jury found him guilty after five minutes deliberation and Kaplan was sentenced to from five to ten years imprisonment.

The retired sea captain-detective then took up the trail of Edward Price and finally caused his arrest in Portland, Ore. Price, who also used the name Phelan as an alias, pleaded guilty after being returned to Phoenix and was sentenced to from two to five years in prison.

The third man, whom authorities said was the "payoff" or head man of the trio, still continued to elude Van Rillaer. Finally, through the efforts of Sheriff Lon Jordan of Phoenix, Florida officers apprehended Harry Lewis, 56, a man with 11 aliases, and he was brought here for trial.

Just as Lewis was to go on trial, he entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve from four to eight years in prison.

Van Rillaer said the bunco scheme involved a horse racing betting system which would bring fabulous profits. He said he was convinced so thoroughly that he made a special trip to San Francisco to obtain the $7,700 and returned to deliver it to the trio to show his "good faith" so he could share in the horse race winnings.

Mountain Feud Called Off to Whip the Axis

NORFOLK, VA.—Once upon a time, when a Hatfield saw a McCoy—or vice versa—it was the signal for a shooting bee.

And today "those feudin' mountain boys" whose bloody war in the mountains of Kentucky and West Virginia made history, have taken up their rifles "for better game—the Japs and Germans," explained Fred Hatfield, 21-year-old apprentice seaman.

This time the Hatfields and the McCoy's are fighting on the same side. Navy recruits from both clans met the other day in Norfolk to shake hands and pledge co-operation in whipping the Axis. They were Fred and Irvin Hatfield, both apprentice seamen, and Robert H. McCoy, a navy recruit, and Kenneth W. McCoy, in training here as a chief specialist in the physical fitness program.

The famous feud is believed to have started over a 50-cent debt on a hog. It ended by the marriage of a Hatfield boy to a McCoy girl. Fred Hatfield said that no one pays any attention to the feud now.

"But fighting is in our blood," Fred said, "and there'll be plenty of Hatfields and McCoy's out there in the Atlantic and Pacific shootin'."

Criminal Made Normal By Surgery, Expert Says

NEW ORLEANS.—Dr. Ralph S. Banay, chief of the department of psychiatry at Sing Sing prison, described a feat of brain surgery as "the most dramatic achievement attributable to psychiatry."

He said that through the operation a 52-year-old Sing Sing inmate convicted of a statutory offense had turned into a normal and emotionally adjusted human being. Dr. Banay said that six months had elapsed since the operation and that the man had recovered completely without any impairment of his intellectual facilities.

Pagan Indians Favor One White Man Idea—War

Isolated Tribe in Northern Michigan Adhere to Ancient Culture.

WATERSMEET, MICH.—Paganism and the Indian culture of the days before Columbus are making a determined stand in the wilds of northern Michigan. They'll have no truck with white men, or their swing bands, or their marriages, or their divorces, or their priests and preachers—those resolute Chippewas of Lac Vieux desert, an isolated spot whose nearest white town is Watersmeet, Mich.

But there's one thing the white men are doing that the steel souled tribesmen go in for with a will. They have laid aside their pipes of peace and have declared war formally on the Axis.

Americans First.

The young braves are more than willing to enlist, and a conscientious objector is as rare as a redskin divorce among the solemn faced aborigines.

"Any land good enough to live in," says George A. Cadotte, tribal interpreter, "is good enough to fight for. That is our creed. We are Americans, first and last, and war is our inheritance."

Sacred drums beat a rhythmic tattoo in the night and you can hear the chomp-chomp of moccasined feet around the fireside. Primitive powwows, weird medicine dances and fantastic rites are as much in vogue in this lake studded Michigan-Wisconsin border paradise as benefits, bargain days and ball games are in Chicago.

There are no glittering shops, gyp joints, theaters, churches, night clubs—not even a post office—in this strange remnant of the frontier. Newspapers and radios are rarities. No one ever heard of a formal marriage ceremony and the Indians have no word for divorce.

In fact, the rules of the outside world just don't go. Back in 1854, when Indian lands were ceded to the government, scattered bands were assigned to various reservations. The Lac Vieux desert band found itself at the L'Anse tract on Lake Superior.

In sharp contrast to the fertile soil their forefathers had defended against the Sioux in the "land of lakes," the new homeland was a marsh.

They Just Turn Rebel.

The band rebelled, returning to Lac Vieux desert—only to find that Uncle Sam had taken over. In desperation, the leaders appealed to President Lincoln—in about 1863—and the "Great Emancipator" promptly signed over a 40 acre tract to the band without reservation privileges.

Since that day, generations of rebel Indians have revered Lincoln, even though their knowledge of Honest Abe begins and ends at Lac Vieux desert. In 1870, President Ulysses S. Grant added 46 acres to the original tract, giving the band 86 acres of primitive wilderness in which to hunt, fish, and trap—even though "white man law is boss."

Life among the pagans is a medley of ancient and modern. Homes are crude—white man style—but worship is by tribal tradition. At home the tribesmen speak Chippewa, which is "white man" for Ojibway—outside they speak English. If they commit a crime they are tried in a white man's court.

Eighty Indians—from newborn babes to 80 year old squaws and wrinkled braves, make up the band today. Originally it numbered 200. Big chief is youthful John Ackley, and medicine man is venerable John Pete, 77 years old, who speaks little English. Interpreter and unofficial agent is Cadotte, educated Indian who speaks fluent English and received commercial training in Superior, Wis., before he drifted in to stay early in the depression.

Most Willing to Fight For Mother, Troops Vote

SAN PEDRO, CALIF.—Mother won by a landslide when soldiers at Fort MacArthur took a vote to find out for whom they were most willing to fight.

After her it was a close race between father and Col. W. W. Hicks, commanding officer at the Fort. The colonel had an edge.

Ranked in the first 10 women were the boys' sisters, wives, sweethearts and Mrs. Roosevelt. In the first 10 men were President Roosevelt, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Winston Churchill.

Tenth in the women's list was Ann Sheridan, the movie actress. Tenth in the men's poll was "Sergeant Mulligan," a flat-faced English bulldog, the camp mascot.

Sisters Find Each Other After 60-Year Separation

MERIDIAN, MISS.—Mrs. Georgia Graham of Meridian has ended her 60-year quest—that of locating her sister. Traced through a letter written to a friend in Atlanta, Mrs. Graham's long search, which took her from New York to California, terminated when she found that Mrs. S. C. Styron of Atlanta is the former Lena Garvin, her sister. The two had become separated since the death of their mother 60 years ago.

Mammoth Coal Pile

To assure a constant flow of electric power for war industries next winter, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has increased its stock pile of coal to an amount sufficient to run its big Waukegan generating station at top capacity for 120 days.

As a major contribution to the government's "buy coal now" drive, the company has increased coal reserves at its generating stations to an all-time high of 350,300 tons which will protect continuity of electric service to a large area of northern Illinois and release hundreds of railroad cars for war traffic should transportation pinch develop next winter.

Working All Day With Beautiful Girls His Task

Stunning Blondes, Brunettes
Tumble in Profusion
In Man's Office.

NEW YORK.—In the spring—or any other season—a young man's fancy is apt to turn toward a job like Harry Conover's. That is, a job where one is surrounded all day long by some of the most beautiful girls in the world.

Tall and stunning blondes and brunettes tumble about the Conover office in distracting profusion. As a visitor once remarked: "These are the kind of girls I like—you should see the kind I get."

Conover is the head of the model agency bearing his name. His stock in trade consists of 250 lassies, all of whom have two things in common: they are young and pretty. He also has some 20 phones and these ring almost constantly as photographers, artists and advertising agency executives seek the services of one or more of his models to help sell a refrigerator or stove or beautify the cover of a magazine.

He Was a Model.

In these surroundings it would seem all but impossible to concentrate but Conover can apply himself to desk work as though he were a hermit. It is quite obvious that he is accustomed to beauty.

"I married a model," he said with a wistful undertone as though he would like, once in a while, to see a homely girl.

As a matter of fact he is not a bad looking chap himself, only 29, and once one of the most successful male models. "They used to call me 'The Face,'" he admits. Friends tagged him thus because his pearly teeth and curly locks were plastered over billboards and in magazines as bait for toothpastes and hair tonics.

A moment of meditation made Conover a model magnate. He realized abruptly one day that every picture he posed for meant that he was one step closer to the end of his modeling career. So he spent his spare time helping other models get work—and incidentally establishing good contacts for himself.

His method of getting his business under way was quite unorthodox. No matter who called him for a model got the answer that the Conover agency was all booked. This went on right to the verge of bankruptcy, but Conover rightly figured that the word would get around that he was doing great. It did and he did.

Likes 'Scrubbed' Look.

Conover's models look a little different from most. When he got into the field they were standardized as tall, thin with china-white faces and a disdainful air. He looks for girls who have what he calls that "scrubbed" look. Give him such with the proper height, features and figure and she can make herself from $75 to $300 a week.

Jinx Falkenberg is one of his models and while he didn't name her he sometimes tags odd nicknames like "Dusty" on his girls. Best ages for a model are 16 to 25 and best heights 5-5 to 5-11. He gets most of his applicants for jobs on Monday and this puzzled him until he discovered that ambitious suitors would spend Sunday telling the girls: "You ought to be a model." This apparently replaces "You ought to be in pictures."

Suit of Boy Friend Now

In Army Adorns Steno

DENVER.—The slack suit blonde Fayetta Sanford wore to her job in the Colorado Capitol definitely was mannish looking.

It had been her boy friend's new sport suit until he went to the army.

"He can't wear it for the duration, and it was a good looking outfit, so I had it made over for myself," explained Fayetta, state welfare department stenographer.

Her example impressed a friend, Mrs. Frances Karkeek, civil service commission stenographer.

"My husband is going to the army soon," she said. "He won't be able to say anything if I want to have his civilian pants cut down."

Judge Splits a 'Fee'

For Traffic Violation

PORTLAND, ORE.—Cupid got Mrs. Elizabeth Andrus into trouble, and then helped her out of it.

She told Judge A. E. Wheelock she was hurrying to get a young couple to the marriage license bureau, so her husband, a minister, could marry them, when she was halted for traffic violation.

"How much did your husband get for marrying the couple?" asked the judge. When told that the fee was $5, the judge decided to "split" an original fine of $5 to $2.50.

Judge Fines Speeding

Father, Then Remits It

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO.—"You probably couldn't have been much use at the hospital," City Judge C. A. Bailey told Elmer A. Ihler, who offered the alibi to a speeding charge that he was hastening to attend the birth of his first son.

The judge imposed a fine of $5. As an afterthought, he remitted the fine and told Ihler to save the ticket to show his son some day "just how much trouble he got you into."

WICHITA, KAN.—Thayer Nelson cranked his car.

It was in reverse, and backed rapidly down the street. Nelson chased the car—and was gaining ground. The runaway machine crashed into another car, causing the gear shift to switch into low.

The car chased Nelson—and caught him. He's in a hospital now.

Female Justice Being Meted Out

Drain on Manpower Brings Women Into Jury Box.

PITTSBURGH.—"Female justice" is being meted out in the courts here because of the war's drain on manpower.

Jury boxes are predominantly feminine, with most of them being filled by panels that are at least three-fourths women. All-women juries, once the nightmare of legal traditionalists, are becoming increasingly common in Allegheny county courts.

The men are being excused wholesale from jury duty because they are needed in the district's many defense plants.

"The courts are very ready to excuse men these days who hold national defense jobs," one judge explained.

Opinion in courthouse circles is that the women, in most cases, are efficient and conscientious jurors, except that they are inclined to be "soft-hearted."

"Often women are reluctant to return a verdict carrying a heavy penalty," a spokesman from the district attorney's office said. "In murder cases, it's difficult to get them to send the defendant to the chair."

Although the women jurors are easy on defendants in criminal cases, they make it much tougher for the defendant in the civil suit as a rule, one attorney remarked.

He explained the women are inclined to award large damage verdicts, which cannot always be sustained in higher courts.

The women are more severe than men in morality cases, it was said, and are often at a loss in cases connected with business or stock transactions.

Girl Cuts Off Man's

Leg Under Locomotive

RICHMOND, VA.—The saga of an attractive girl intern who crawled beneath a locomotive, held a flashlight in her teeth and amputated the leg of a railway workman with a borrowed pocket knife was disclosed here.

Heroine of the story was Marina Diaz-Rivas, slender, young brunette from Puerto Rico, who has been on the night ambulance-riding assignment at the Medical college of Virginia hospital.

A call came from the railroad yards. Trapped beneath a locomotive, groaning and half-delirious with pain, was a yard employee. A big wheel was squarely across his mangled leg.

There was only one way to free him—amputation—and there was only one way to get at it—from underneath the locomotive.

Shivering as the night wind cut through her white uniform, Miss Diaz-Rivas crawled under. Lying flat on the gravel, grease and ashes, she went to work by the dim rays of her flashlight with a small hospital scalpel.

Heavy muscle and the cramped quarters presented a problem. The scalpel wasn't enough. In desperation she borrowed a big pocket knife and finished the job.

The patient is recovering.

Dig Nine Days to Free

Mule Trapped in Mine

BOULDER, COLO.—Miners cut and dug in round-the-clock shifts to rescue Teddy, a tough, hard-working mule imprisoned nine days ago by a cave-in in the Crackerjack Coal mine.

Joe Robertson, the mine lessee who has worked with only snatches of sleep since the cave-in to free Teddy, half of his two-mule coal-pulling power, said Teddy was the "best-working doggone mule I ever saw."

Working steadily now with four-man shifts in the small mine tunnel, Robertson hopes to dig through about 80 feet of fallen rock and debris to reach little Teddy.

William B. Wheeler, state humane society officer, said, "They told me Teddy can get water where he's trapped at the back of the mine and they told me, too, that similarly trapped mine mules have chewed the bark off the mine supports for food."

Finds It Isn't So Easy

To Give Away Pet Lion

SEATTLE.—Sven Hagenstrom discovered it isn't so easy to give away a lion—after two attempts.

First he generously proffered the sturdy cub to an army unit as a mascot after a court had ordered him to part with the pet on complaints of the neighbors. But, he explained, "something came up, and the army couldn't keep her."

Then Tacoma's Point Defiance zoo came to his rescue and made room for Hagenstrom's pet.

War Production and Electric Power in Northern Illinois

Within a short span of time northern Illinois has become a great center of war production, turning out tanks, tractors, trucks, guns, ships and airplane engines as well as tons of steel for thousands of war uses on the land, on the sea and in the air.

In the manufacture of all these war materials and equipment, electric power is essential. It is our job, above all else, to supply power to these industries making the implements needed by our armed forces.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

CAIN AND ABEL: A CONTRAST

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 4:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous.—Hebrews 11:4.

The weed of sin is fast growing, and brings forth bitter fruit. The disobedience of Adam and Eve resulted in their being put forth from the garden, but that judgment did not terminate the awful plague of sin. We see it in this lesson showing forth in their son, as it has in all the sons of Adam down through the centuries.

It is a dark picture and one which would discourage us did we not know that redemption has been wrought out by "the second man, the Lord from heaven" (1 Cor. 15:47).

We have here two sons of Adam with their differing personalities, a clash and the first murder, and then one man, a vagabond on the face of the earth.

I. Two Sons (vv. 1-7).
The birth of a child is always an exciting occasion, and one can readily imagine what it must have meant when the first boy ever to be born put in his appearance. What joy, what concern for his welfare, what plans for the future! And then, what disappointment and sorrow!

But before speaking of that, let us observe how he and his brother differed in their interests and personalities. It is a surprising thing how completely different two sons in the same family can be.

Abel chose the work of a shepherd, much honored in the early history of man. Cain became a tiller of the soil, which with the passage of time has come to be more important than the other.

They also had a different viewpoint on worship. Cain was a religious man. He apparently was the first to worship, but he came in the spirit of one who recognized God only as his Creator, the One worthy of his homage. Abel came also with a gift, but his attitude was quite different. His offering spoke of sacrifice, the need of a covering for sin (cf. Gen. 3:21). It was more than homage, it was a plea for forgiveness.

The Lord's acceptance of Abel's sacrifice made Cain angry (v. 5). Here again he differed from Abel, for there was no angry response on his part. Abel had recognized God's desire in worship. Cain not only failed to do so, but rejected God's instruction and His plea (vv. 6, 7).

Jealousy led to anger, and anger (as it so often does) led to murder (vv. 8, 9).

Instead of repentance and correction, the anger of Cain carried him to the awful conclusion of hatred, the taking of life. We tend to think of murder as a crime which only a desperately wicked man would commit. We hardly think of the "respectable" little sin of envy as being the root of murder, but it is, often and sometimes very quickly.

Actually there is no little sin, for it is the genius of sin to grow, to increase, to go step by step, yes, often by leaps and bounds, to its horrible fruition. "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?" (Jer. 17:9). Why trust it?

The deceitfulness of Cain's heart is shown by the callous evasiveness of his reply to God concerning his murdered brother. His sin brought God's question. It always does. Do not assume that you can hide from Him. It has been suggested that committing sin is like touching a burglar alarm—the bell rings, and one must answer for his act.

"Am I my brother's keeper?" is the perfect expression of the selfish and indifferent attitude of the world. Human beings are regarded as simply those to be exploited, beings upon whom they may prey. For example: Just to make money, men are willing to destroy a fellow man with intoxicating liquor, or break down his decency and morality by selling him indecent books or magazines.

Murder having taken one of the two sons, we find that the remaining one is just

III. A Vagabond (vv. 10-15).
Judgment for sin made Cain a wanderer and a fugitive. Never would he be able to get away from the cry of his brother's blood (v. 10). No wonder he said he could not bear it. But notice that his cry was not one of repentance or contrition, but only of fear, of retribution.

So God shows mercy, forbidding the judgment of men upon Cain. Vengeance belongs to God, and in this first murder He reserved judgment to Himself. Later He put upon man the responsibility of judging and punishing murder by death (Gen. 9:6), but here He put His protecting hand on Cain.

Yet, to be a fugitive, with no real abiding place on earth, and every man's hand against him, was indeed a heavy punishment. One could have wished that it had brought repentance, but it did not. May none of us go the way of Cain.

ONE-TWO-THREE-FOUR-FIVE-SUGGESTIONS

...to help you make better use of your NEW Telephone Directory

WE TRY to make your telephone directory accurate and complete. These five suggestions, if followed, will increase its usefulness.

- 1 Be sure to discard your OLD telephone directory if it was not collected when the new one was delivered. (Don't destroy it—turn it over with other waste paper to your regular collector.)
- 2 If you have a memo list of numbers called frequently, verify these numbers now by looking in your NEW directory.
- 3 Always consult the directory when not sure of the number.

Calling from memory is a common cause of wrong numbers.

4 Look in your directory—don't ask "Information" for numbers listed there. This avoids making two calls instead of one.

5 Use the "Classified" section (yellow pages in most directories) to locate wanted products, services or professional help—especially important now that substitutes must be found.

Woman, Adrift 105 Days in Lifeboat, Tells of Voyage

Suffers Mental Blackout as Result of Trials of Fatal Trip.

LOS ANGELES.—Mrs. Lily Fern Thompson, 22-year-old survivor of 105 tragic days on a sloop-rigged lifeboat in the Pacific, has recovered sufficiently to recall briefly incidents of the fatal trip.

Attorney Robert A. Neeb Jr. said he expects to show the young widow, the log of the Wing On this weekend. The boat disintegrated a few hours after she was removed from it by a missionary in the Fiji islands November 24, 1940.

Mrs. Thompson, still barely alive, was brought home March 24, 1941. She was suffering from a mental blackout; was too weak to walk; was a bundle of nerves despite three months' hospitalization in Suva; there was a question whether she ever would see again.

In those 13 months, Neeb said, Mrs. Thompson has recovered sufficiently to take daily walks, enjoy automobile rides and picture shows, and, more remarkable, "to tell a good deal of what happened. She recalls the deaths of her husband and the other young couple who set out so gaily August 12, 1940, on a pleasure cruise to the South Seas.

Husband Buried at Sea.
The party had rigged up a 28-foot lifeboat and took provisions for only one month. They expected to sail to Hawaii and then Samoa, but missed both. Thompson and the Conlys, from Oakland, Calif., never sighted land after they left San Pedro, Calif.

—they died of starvation. Clint Thompson was the first to die, because he refused to eat so that the others might have the few scraps remaining.

Thompson, 21, was buried at sea. Mrs. Conly's body was buried in the Fiji. Conly's was lost as the boat fell to pieces overnight after the Rev. W. G. Ferris, a missionary at Cuba Bay, Vanna Lavu, Fiji islands, removed Mrs. Thompson.

Neeb said Mrs. Thompson's one wish is to live a normal life with her two children, Tommy, 27 months old, lives with her at her parents' home. Her daughter, Jackie, lives a few blocks away, with her paternal grandparents, but Mrs. Thompson sees her daily.

On the advice of a psychiatrist, Mrs. Thompson was given bit by bit scraps of information obtained from the log of the Wing On. Finally she began to recall incidents from her tragic trip.

Memory Returns.
She was not told of her husband's death, nor of the Conlys', but eventually she remembered.

Nor was she shown any newspaper clippings. Nor any correspondence, such as this excerpt from Mr. Ferris' letter:

"She (Mrs. Thompson) has lived, indeed, in the reck of death for these weeks."

"She now has a complete grasp of the entire voyage," Neeb said, "but we hope to correlate various details by showing her, one by one, articles from the Wing On."

Shell Game Winner Is Loser to Florida Jurors

SARASOTA, FLA.—The defendant pleaded innocent to charges of operating a "shell game" and acted as his own counsel.

"Do you know how to work this game?" asked County Judge Forrest Chapman.

"Yes, sir; not very well, but I can," replied the defendant.

He shuffled the shells, asked the judge and jury to pick the one with the ball under it.

The judge drew an empty. The jury agreed on a second. The ball wasn't there either.

The defendant turned up the third and there it was. The jury turned in a conviction.

This Honest Panhandler Helps Out His Friend

KANSAS CITY.—Martin Jones, panhandler, won't let his friends down. No, sir! Mr. Jones encounters the mendicant daily near his office and never turns down a plea.

Yesterday Mr. Jones reversed the procedure. Without hesitation, the man pulled out his small stock of cash and handed over five cents.

The amazed Mr. Jones, conscience-stricken, chased his benefactor half a block to return the handout.

Training for Victory

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

ARE we entering an era that to a great extent may duplicate the bad features of the depression years with regard to the training of apprentices in industry?

During the depression period the majority of our industrial firms placed little emphasis upon apprenticeship training.

As a result these concerns were not ready for the task that confronted them when war came. They began a frantic search for skilled and semi-skilled workers.

Now that the war production machine is beginning to roll and something resembling order may be seen, it would appear that real consideration should be given to post-war industrial training plans.

Obviously, the first goal is to win the war, but we might lose sight of other objectives that could in a sense mean defeat. In other words, we can go ahead devoting all effort to the present and give no thought to the future. But the need for training is always with us, and it will be almost as vital after the war when millions of men return to peaceful industrial jobs.

Farsighted management is maintaining a complete and well-rounded training program today. The program may not be what it would be in peace times, but it is a solid foundation for the future.
